The United Nations has opened up a global vote for a better world. The vote aims to capture people's voices, priorities and views, so that global leaders can hear people's voices as they make major decisions in the coming months. Over 2 million people have already voted, and on May 8th, people across the world are invited to vote for the world they see. Have your say for a better world, join and vote: <http://myworld2015.org> MY World asks individuals which six of sixteen possible issues they think would make the most difference to their lives. From now until 2015, we want as many people in as many countries as possible to be involved with MY World: citizens of all ages, genders and backgrounds, and particularly the world's poor and marginalized communities. After which, MY World will continue gathering people's voices up to 2015 and results will be shared with the Secretary General and global leaders as they prepare the next development agenda in the run up to 2015. - See more at: <https://www.thunderclap.it/projects/10115-vote-for-your-world-my-world>
